Meharry Medical College has served the nation's health care needs for 147 years. This year the College is convening its 148th graduation exercises because it held two Commencement ceremonies in one academic year during World War II.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

JAMES E.K. HILDRETH, PH.D., M.D., PRESIDENT & CEO

Class of 2023—congratulations on this milestone, not just in your academic careers, but in your lives. This day is a day of symbolism. The ceremony, the trappings of regalia, the degree you receive—all of this—is representative of transition. It is both the fruition of a long-standing dream and a new beginning, leaning toward things to come. In some ways, it is all a prayer for the future.

In fact, you are a bridge between those who went before you, laying the groundwork for you and for those who follow you for whom you share responsibility.

Consider these milestones during your time here:

Many of you who are culminating a four-year course here matriculated with the coming cloud of a global pandemic on the horizon—we could see it coming, but we didn't have the measure of it until we were confronted with it the following spring. But you were here as Meharryans when we all buckled down for the storm. As young data science, medical, dental, research and public health students, you saw solutions develop on the fly; you saw health care and public health from the point of view few of your predecessors or successors experienced because you fought COVID-19 at the head of the storm. You helped with the testing centers across Nashville and helped dispense groundbreaking vaccinations. You were a part of history.

You saw the creation of a new school at Meharry—part of the realization that data collection and interpretation is playing an ever-growing part toward the cause of health equity—and the College of Applied Computational Science was born.

And, in large part because of that pandemic, you saw new spotlights directed at public health and health equity and the establishment of a new Global Institute of Public Health with a bright future nurtured by Meharry's place in service to the underserved.

In the course of the pandemic, you saw Meharry's profile rise nationally and internationally. Meharry is part of an effort to eliminate HIV-AIDS from the African continent, seeing massive reductions in the transmission of the disease from mothers to newborns because Meharryans are there.

And yet, we continue the mission to serve the underserved in our own backyard, whether it is through those who served in the Salt Wagon Clinic or as part of not one, but two free Oral Health Day events and a pediatric dental event treating hundreds who otherwise could not have afforded dental care.

This is all part of your world as students here at Meharry, experiences you will carry forward. You are a class unlike any other. I am proud of you all.

Godspeed on your journeys.

MEHARRY MEDICAL COLLEGE

Meharry Medical College, a United Methodist Church related institution, is the nation's largest private, independent, historically black academic health sciences center whose primary focus is educating health science professionals. Since 1876, Meharry Medical College has been a leading educator of African-American physicians, dentists, biomedical scientists and public health professionals.

Our mission is to improve the health and health care of minority and underserved communities by offering excellent education and training programs in the health sciences, placing special emphasis on providing opportunities to people of color and individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, regardless of race or ethnicity; delivering high quality health services and conducting research that fosters the elimination of health disparities.

Meharry Medical College is particularly well known for our uniquely nurturing, highly effective educational programs. We have a growing emphasis on health disparities research and deliver culturally relevant, culturally competent evidence-based health services. Year after year, we make a significant contribution to the diversity of the nation's health professions workforce.

Access to health care for the underserved and underrepresented continues to be a top priority for the nation. An Institute of Medicine report, "Unequal Treatment," found that the sources of disparity in health care are complex. They are rooted in historic and contemporary inequities involving many participants at several levels, including health systems, utilization managers, insurers, health care professionals and patients. The key solution, according to the report, is substantially increasing the number of underrepresented racial and ethnic minorities among the nation's health care workforce.

We are proud that Meharry Medical College graduates are part of this solution. More than 80 percent of our medical and dental graduates practice in underserved communities.

The education of graduate students in the fields of biomedical research and public health continues to be a high priority at Meharry. There is a growing national shortage of African-American science faculty, especially biomedical scientists, at the college level. Meharry is proud of its Ph.D., MSPH and MHS programs that address this national need to educate the next generation of scientists and health care professionals.

The Center for Health Policy at Meharry Medical College is strategically housed here to provide leadership in health policy education, training and research to doctoral, medical, dental and graduate students.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER DAVID M. CARLISLE, M.D., PH.D.

David M. Carlisle, M.D., Ph.D. is presently serving since 2011 as the president and chief executive officer of Charles R. Drew University of Medicine (CDU) and Science in the Watts-Willowbrook area of Los Angeles County, California. Dr. Carlisle is a published author in health policy, quality of care, medical education diversity and elimination of health disparities. A board-certified internal medicine specialist, his clinical work has always revolved around caring for the underserved.

President Carlisle graduated from Wesleyan University, majoring in chemistry. He then earned his medical degree from Brown University, his Master of Public Health and his Ph.D. in Health Services Research from the UCLA Fielding School of Public Health. He completed a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Clinical Scholars Program fellowship at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA in 1990.

Dr. Carlisle has been affiliated with the UCLA Department of Medicine for approximately 31 years, becoming a tenured associate professor in 1998. He is presently a professor of medicine and public health at CDU and an adjunct professor of medicine at UCLA.

President Carlisle served as director of the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development for 11 years (2000-11) under Governor Gray Davis, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger and Governor Jerry Brown. Under his leadership, OSHPD released its first-ever health disparities reports, increased scholarship and loan repayment opportunities for health providers committed to practice in underrepresented, under-resourced and underserved communities, and successfully administered hospital seismic safety as well as health facility loan insurance programs.

In 2007, Dr. Carlisle became a Senior Fellow at UCLA's Luskin School of Public Affairs and served as a member of the Advisory Council of the UCLA Fielding School of Public Health from 2017-22. In 2018 he was appointed as a member of the California Future Health Workforce Commission. In 2018, he was appointed to the Board of Trustees for the California Health Care Foundation and served as a council member of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco Economic Advisory Council. He is also a founding member of the BioScienceLA Board.

Dr. Carlisle has lived in Los Angeles and Sacramento for almost 40 years. He is married to Dr. Sylvia Carlisle and together they have two children, David and Aimee, both defense attorneys.

ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic regalia worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gown served to set the student apart from his fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between “town and gown.”

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. They varied in design until the American Intercollegiate Commission standardized them in 1984. At that time, it was decided that all robes would be black: bachelor's gowns were made of worsted stuff with pointed sleeves; master's gowns were of silk with long closed sleeves and doctor's gowns were of silk with longer sleeves, faced with black velvet from hem to neck and back. Scholars also wore three velvet bands around each sleeve above the elbow.

Hoods are made of the same materials as the gowns, the length varying on the degree. Only the lining of the hood indicates the university by its colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree is earned. Throughout the United States, there has been no change in the standard colors that represent the disciplines. The color facing the hood, whether it is black or colored, indicates the following: brown: architecture and the fine arts; citron yellow: social work; dark blue: philosophy; kelly green: medicine; lemon yellow: library service; light blue: education; light brown: business; lilac: dentistry; olive green: pharmacy; orange: engineering; peacock blue: international affairs; pink: music; purple: law; scarlet: theology; white: arts and letters; crimson: journalism and golden yellow: science.

THE SYMBOLS OF CEREMONY

THE SEAL

Seals have been part of university ceremony since the Middle Ages. A college or university seal is one of its more important symbols of office, the legal mark of the school's governing body. Used to authenticate official documents such as diplomas and legal records, the seal is different from the school logo, with strict rules associated with its application—only certain institutional ceremonies, documents and events allow the use of the seal.

With gold braid at its perimeter, the seal of Meharry Medical College contains three smaller escutcheons surrounding an inverted delta at center representing the institution's three schools of study: (clockwise from the top) the School of Medicine, the School of Dentistry and the School of Graduate Studies and Research. Emblazoned with the College's motto, "Worship of God Through Service to Mankind," the seal exhibits the institution's founding year, 1876.

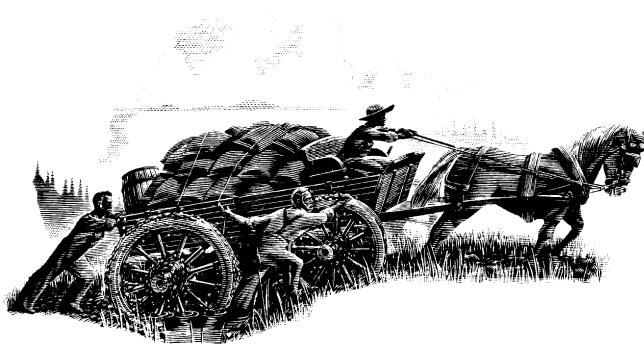

THE MACE

Academic maces—formidable staffs of wood, metal and gems—are descended from war clubs carried in medieval times by the bodyguards of civil officers. Eventually carried as symbols of royal authority, earliest maces were carried by sergeants-at-arms in England in the early 12th century. The academic mace is used only on formal occasions when participants are in full regalia and symbolizes the authority invested in the president by the school's governing body. The mace is an integral part of convocation and commencement processions and exercises as well as the inauguration of a new president.

THE MEDALLION

The presidential medallion is the official insignia of Meharry Medical College. It is worn by the president during academic ceremonies. The presidential medallion depicts the official seal of the college in bronze. Links of the chain are engraved with the names of Meharry's past presidents and their terms of office, symbolizing the continuity of responsibility in the office.

AN ACT OF KINDNESS

freed from slavery. Ignoring risks involved in responding to a stranger's knock on the door, the family—still vulnerable to slave hunters paid to return freedmen to bondage—gave Samuel food and shelter for the night.

At morning's light, they helped the young visitor raise his wagon from the mud and Samuel continued on his way. The black family's act of kindness touched young Samuel so deeply that he vowed to repay it.

"I have no money now," he said as he departed, "but when I am able, I shall do something for your race."

Tragically, history never recorded the name of the courageous black family, and perhaps their identity even receded in the mind of Samuel as he grew prosperous in the years that followed.

Even so, 40 years later, as the Civil War ended and black citizens began their long struggle for rights guaranteed by the Constitution, Samuel seized an opportunity to redeem his vow.

When leading Methodist clergymen and laymen organized the Freedmen's Aid Society in August 1866, to "elevate former slaves, intellectually and morally," Samuel acted. He and his four brothers—Alexander, David, Hugh and Jesse—pledged their support to Central Tennessee College's emerging medical education program.

With $30,000 in cash and real property, the Meharry brothers repaid the black family's "Act of Kindness" with one of their own. In 1876, they funded the College's Medical Department which evolved over time into what we now know as Meharry Medical College.

Today, the contemporary Salt Wagon image symbolizes those several acts of kindness and philanthropy and countless others performed by the College's loyal supporters.

In the 1820s, 16-year-old Samuel Meharry was hauling a load of salt through the Kentucky wilderness when his wagon slid off the road into a muddy ditch. With rain and nightfall limiting his options, Samuel searched for help.

Peering through the darkness, he saw a modest cabin that was home to a black family recently

THE DATA SCIENCE OATH

I swear to fulfill, to the best of my ability and judgment, this covenant:

I will respect the hard-won scientific gains of those data scientists in whose steps I walk and gladly share such knowledge as is mine with those who follow.

I will apply, for the benefit of society, all measures which are required, avoiding those twin traps of data-fishing and analytic nihilism.

I will remember that there is art to data science as well as science, and that consistency, candor and compassion should outweigh the algorithm's precision or the interventionist's influence.

I will not be ashamed to say, "I know not," nor will I fail to call in my colleagues when the skills of another are needed for solving a problem.

I will respect the privacy of my data subjects, for their problems are not disclosed to me that the world may know, so I will tread with care in matters of privacy and security. If it is given to me to save life with my analyses, all thanks. But it may also be within my power to do harm and this responsibility must be faced with humbleness and awareness of my own limitations.

I will remember that my data are not just numbers without meaning or context, but represent real people and situations and that my work may lead to unintended societal consequences, such as inequality, poverty and disparities due to algorithmic bias.

My responsibility must consider potential consequences of my extraction of meaning from data and ensure my analyses help make better decisions. I will do personalization where appropriate, but I will always look for a path to fair treatment and non-discrimination.

I will remember that I remain a member of society, with special obligations to all my fellow human beings, those who need help and those who don't.

If I do not violate this oath, may I enjoy vitality and virtuosity, respected for my contributions and remembered for my leadership thereafter. May I always act to preserve the finest traditions of my calling and may I long experience the joy of helping those who seek my help.

A BIOMEDICAL RESEARCHER'S PLEDGE

I accept this opportunity to follow the difficult and rewarding path of biomedical science. I will endeavor to honor all those who have contributed to this opportunity by always working to the utmost of my abilities and by increasing those abilities when possible.

I pledge to use my energy, intellect and education to enhance the lives of all humans, understanding that often the greatest strides are made through efforts to assist the dispossessed and underprivileged in our world.

I will carefully consider and remain mindful of the ethical implications of my work.

I will never use my gifts and skills to intentionally harm any individual, group or the planetary environment.

In planning and carrying out my work, I will treat this planet and all its life forms with honor and respect.

I will honor and respect the efforts of my teachers, taking great care to always give credit where credit is due and always humbly understanding that all I see, I see by standing on the shoulders of the many scientists who have gone before me.

I also will honor and respect my students and all who rely on that which I have learned, endeavoring to truthfully and openly disclose all my methods, findings and conclusions.

So long as I adhere to this pledge, may I have continued success in the field of biomedical science.

PUBLIC HEALTH PLEDGE

I pledge to do all within my power to safeguard human and environmental health through prevention, protection, promotion and educational efforts. I will accept the responsibility to use my talents, training and professional experience to instill public trust in all my public health endeavors. It is my personal commitment to serve my community with integrity and pride. As a member of the public health community, I recognize the unique responsibilities associated with this role. I commit myself to the high standards of professionalism and ethical conduct required to achieve community health and to ensuring that the basic resources and conditions necessary for health are accessible to all members of the community.

HEALTH SCIENCES PLEDGE

As I embark on my career, now an alumnus of the Master of Health Sciences, I pledge that I will represent my scientific profession honorably by conducting myself and my professional endeavors in a manner that is always above reproach.

I will incorporate the ethical and moral principles that constitute integrity in all that I do and faithfully ensure that the results of my professional activities ultimately benefit our world.

With this affirmation, I will acknowledge and honor the contributions of those who have preceded me, while seeking truth and the advancement of knowledge in all my actions.

I will strive to show compassion, embrace diversity and above all, uphold excellence that I should become a worthy role model deserving of respect by all.

DENTAL OATH

I, realizing the privileges and opportunity that have been given to me, my study and the arts of dentistry, and appreciating the significance of the dental degree, which has been conferred upon me, do hereby willingly pledge:

That I will diligently uphold the dignity, honor and objective of the dental profession and, to the best of my ability, will contribute to its prestige, proficiency and progress;

That I solemnly accept my responsibility to the patient, to give him the best of my knowledge and skill and to maintain an impeccable relationship with him that will warrant his trust and confidence;

That I will faithfully observe the Principles of Ethics set forth by the profession; and

That I will lend my influences and support to dental education, to organized dentistry and to all segments of the profession, which contribute to the fulfillment of this purpose.

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

MODERN VERSION

I swear to fulfill, to the best of my ability and judgment this covenant:

I will respect the hard-won scientific gains of those physicians in whose steps I walk and gladly share such knowledge as is mine with those who are to follow.

I will apply, for the benefit of the sick, all measures that are required, avoiding those twin traps of overtreatment and therapeutic nihilism.

I will remember that there is art to medicine as well as science and that warmth, sympathy and understanding may outweigh the surgeon's knife or the chemist's drug.

I will not be ashamed to say "I know not," nor will I fail to call on my colleagues when the skills of another are needed for a patient's recovery.

I will respect the privacy of my patients, for their problems are not disclosed to me that the world may know. Most especially, must I tread with care in matters of life and death. If it is given me to save a life, all thanks. But it may also be within my power to take a life; this awesome responsibility must be faced with great humbleness and awareness of my own frailty. Above all, I must not play at God.

I will remember that I do not treat a fever chart or a cancerous growth, but a sick human being, whose illness may affect the person's family and economic stability. My responsibility includes these related problems, if I am to care adequately for the sick.

I will prevent disease whenever I can, for prevention is preferable to cure.

I will remember that I remain a member of society, with special obligations to all my fellow human beings, those sound of mind and body, as well as the infirmed.

If I do not violate this oath, may I enjoy life and art, respected while I live and remembered with affection thereafter. May I always act so as to preserve the finest traditions of my calling and may I long experience the joy of healing those who seek my help.

THE ALUMNI OATH

I, having been given the opportunity to enter the health sciences as a provider and/or researcher, do hereby pledge to give my support to Meharry Medical College and The Meharry National Alumni Association, Inc. I will encourage gifted, mission oriented students to consider Meharry as the institution for study in the health sciences. I will network with my fellow Meharrians. I will give generously of my finances to the extent that I am able to do so. I will always conduct myself in a manner to make my alma mater, Meharry Medical College, proud.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

WORDS AND MUSIC BY FRANCIS SCOTT KEY, 1814

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?

And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

WORDS BY EMERY L. RANN, M.D. '48
MUSIC BY THEODORE STENT, M.D. '48

Steadfast and strong
Majestic in thy might
Shining in glory
From her lofty height.
Our Alma Mater
Wreathed in beauty stands,
Guiding our lives
Our rev'rence she commands.

Help us who strive
In serving mankind's needs;
To share thy love
In doing noble deeds.
With grateful praise and lasting faithfulness,
O, Meharry, guide us
In our quest.

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

WORDS BY JAMES W. JOHNSON, 1899

MUSIC BY JOHN R. JOHNSON, 1899

Lift every voice and sing, till earth and Heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun, of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,
Thou Who hast brought us thus far on the way;
Thou Who hast by Thy might, let us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our
God, where we met Thee.
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee.
Shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand,
True to our God, true to our native land.
